

What I'm Into ...

Taryn Scher, 28, is president of TK PR

The Lazy Goat is my favorite restaurant in the Upstate. You have to try the fried goat cheese balls and the hummus.

I like McFly, yes, the '80s cover band, and Aerosmith.

The last CDs I bought were probably Ke$ha or (Lady) Gaga.

The last book I read was "Poser: My Life in Twenty-three Yoga Poses" by Claire Dederer. She takes a humorous approach toward life after getting married, having her daughter and raising her — all while trying to "master" yoga.

I run a public relations company. I get my local and national clients featured in national magazines, newspapers, on television and radio.

I work from home, so I designed my office to be a space I'd love spending my days in. It's pink and most of my desktop accessories (mouse, stapler, phone, pens) are pink and sparkly. It's like my version of heaven.

I don't really go see a lot in movie theaters — but admittedly, I saw "Sex and the City 2" twice in theaters. The fashion in the second one was so amazing. I actually bought the book that shows all the costuming done by Patricia Field.

I live for The Real Housewives of Anywhere. I secretly hope that one day they'll want to film a Greenville version and I can audition.

There are two muffins in the oven.

One says "Man! It's burning up in here!"

The other one says "Hey look! A talking muffin!!!"
