3. Greenville, South Carolina

With 18-plus miles of trails, "Bikeville" is a hub for cyclist. Stay just outside of town at Hotel Domestique, founded by 17-time Tour de France rider George Hinacapie—who has been known to lead rides along popular Swamp Rabbit Trail. En route, you'll find brewpubs, which are now legal in South Carolina, thanks to the recent passing of the Stone Law. Dark Corner Distillery is also the state's first micro-whiskey and legal moonshine distillery. Tour, taste, or make your own. And if four wheels are more your speed, take a spin around the nearby BMW Performance Track, part of the facility where every BMW X3, X5, X6, Z3, and now 2015's X4 has been built.
