

I'D EAT THAT

12 UNIQUELY GLUTTONOUS WAYS TO ENJOY FRENCH FRIES

BY ALY WALANSKY | 2:38 PM EST

French fries are always good with a burger, but sometimes they can go next level all on their own—becoming the entire dish. Whether you are enjoying creative spins on classic Canadian Poutine, or enjoying variants of the classic diner disco fries, these dishes aren't anything your trainer would be proud of. However, you'll be dreaming of them for weeks to come.

FOLLOW US

SLIDE 6 OF 16

Soby's - Greenville, SC

Crab Fries are addictive as a fry dish can get: The thin cut fries are covered in large pieces of Chesapeake Bay spiced super lump crab meat, a crab veloute sauce, and chive garnish. Soby's Chef de Cuisine Haydn Shaak says: "The unexpected combination of crab and French fries is mind blowing. Between the sweetness of the crab and savoriness of fries- this is the ultimate guilty pleasure."

Courtesy of Soby's